

Bookplates Engraved on copper

by

Roy Cooney, RMS, HS, MASF

Please note: this is not a royal Warrant!

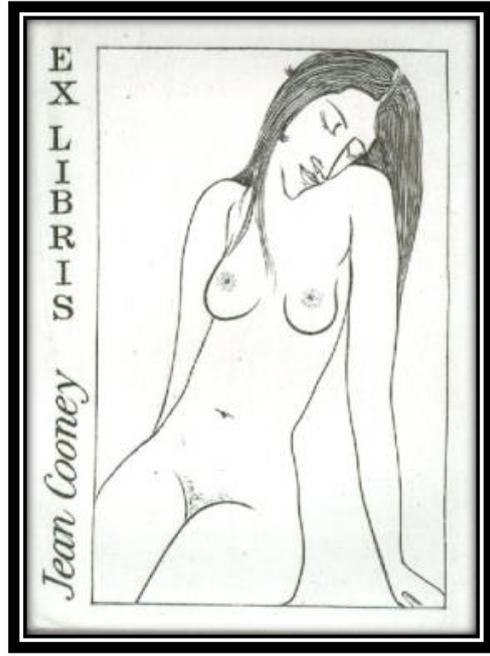

(Notice advised by the Royal College of Arms)

The following is an illustrated list of bookplates line-engraved on copper by Roy Cooney between 1981 and 2011. They are not in chronological order but loosely grouped as family, miscellaneous subjects, chartlets, ships, calligraphy and heraldry. Actual sizes vary and have been adapted to fit within the confines of page size.

52. Tina's monogram appears on the front of Volume 15 of the Encyclopædia Bio-Bibliographical of the Art of the Contemporary Ex-libris. Within the volume there is a short essay and a check list with a fuller description of plates up to 1993.*

*A small workshop
Bespoke for his modest needs,
He sits light feted.
A window gathers his garden.*

*On his bench a burnished lake of copper.
Submerged within, stored images,
Sprung from this bed by his graver,
Like a resurrection.
A lozenge shaped graver
Ballets along the surface,
Each glide or pirouette, a shape.
An almost silent schism
From the hand of a sorcerer.*

*Life size seahorses,
Lych-gate romances,
A blazonry of bookplates.
But first the dampened paper
And inked plates are mated.
Then cushioned by blankets of felt
The press rolls over the accouchement
And a print is born.*
